Mission Statement

The mission of the Orem Police Department is to proactively serve and protect our community with honor, respect, and accountability, to make Orem the safest place to live, work, and play.

With this Vision: To build a safer community together.

Message from your Chief of Police

As members of the Orem Police Department we can look back on 2022, as it begins to wind down, with a positive view on what we have achieved and the improvements we have made.

Without question the most impactful improvement we have made is the merger between the Orem Dispatch and the Provo Dispatch Centers. The physical combination has taken place very efficiently, with the formal union occurring the beginning of 2023. We will miss the voices in the hall and the frequent associations we enjoyed with our dispatch team. However, our physical loss has provided an improved working experience for our dispatchers, with better staffing to handle the challenges of controlling emergency and non-emergency responses of both the police and fire departments. Thankfully, their voices on police and fire channels remind us of their value and the amazing people they are.

OPD operational discussions have revolved around three specific questions: What are we doing right? What are we doing wrong? What can we do better? Asking and answering these questions has helped us to better allocate our resources, and improve our efforts to provide police services in a more efficient manner. It has also encouraged the sharing of ideas and perspectives among the valued members of our Police Department.

These questions have not stayed inside the Department. As a department, we have solicited feedback from everyone we interact with in an official capacity. Every business card, every citation, accident form, and even our police vehicles have a QR code directing anyone to a brief survey of how we are performing our duties. The key question we ask is, “Based on your interaction, how comfortable would you be with our officers providing service to a family member?” OPD has received an overwhelmingly positive approval rating of 4.5 out of 5. That is an 85% approval rating - a number we take great pride in earning and maintaining.

Finally, we wish to express our deep appreciation for the support we receive from our community. As Chief, I echo that appreciation and add my personal gratitude for the men and women of our police department family, who tirelessly dedicate themselves to public safety and problem solving day and night.

Patrol

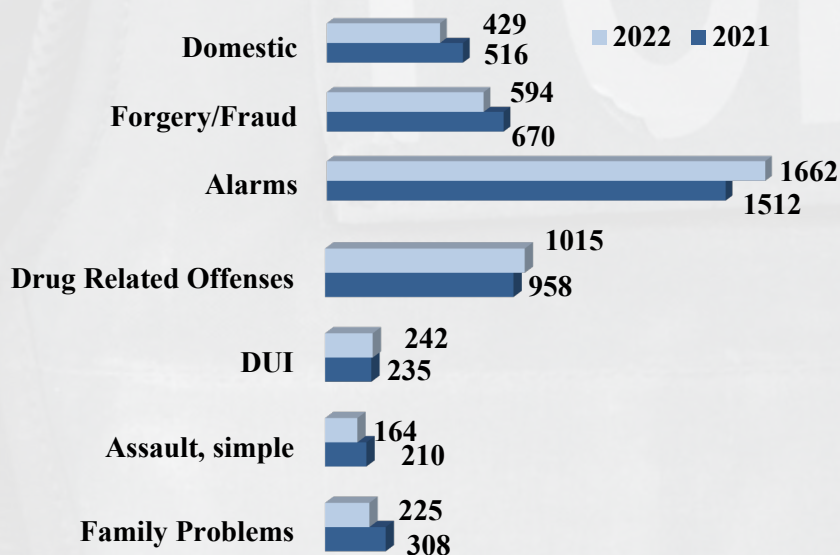

No day is routine for America's Law Enforcement Officers. The average day of a Orem Police Officer is spent answering calls-for-service, traffic enforcement to include issuing traffic citations or warnings, investigating traffic collisions, making arrests, writing reports, making face-to-face non-enforcement contact with the community, and many other actions and activities throughout the day. The Police Departments' officers spend countless hours conducting proactive patrols throughout the city in business districts, high density housing areas, and our local neighborhoods in the effort to reduce crime and increase our visible presence.

Traffic Unit / Motors

The Police Department's Traffic Unit is comprised of one Sergeant and three Officers. One of the officers' primary operational duties is to target impaired drivers and alcohol enforcement. Our OPD team's mission is to provide a safer city through traffic enforcement, education, and innovation. The traffic team can be seen throughout the city in their primary patrol vehicles, as well as police motorcycles with weather permitting.

K9 DUG

Dug couldn't wait to load up in the truck and head to work with his mom, Officer Kara Hancock. Dug was a phenomenal narcotics dog and was the top of his class. Dug's service in Orem and surrounding cities aided in getting both criminals and drugs off the street. Dug loved to hunt for drugs and had impeccable skills—nothing deterred him from playing his favorite hunting games. Dug loved putting on demos at schools, reveling in all the cheers and high energy. Dug prided himself in standing watch while mom made traffic stops. He never took his eyes off her while she was outside of the truck. Dug didn't care to ride all the way back in the kennel—he preferred to stand in the open slider with one paw on mom's arm. Dug was known to be a huge lover. Everyone at Orem PD will miss him running through the station, shoving himself into their legs for a good ear scratchin'. On his days off, Dug enjoyed sitting on the porch at home with mom, enjoying a nice cup of joe. Dug will be greatly missed here in Orem. Thank you K9 Dug for your countless hours of service and dedicated heart in keeping the public, your fellow officers, and your mom safe.
